Profile

A graduate of the University of Natal, Durban in South Africa, Damian began his career in Natal before relocating to Ann Arbor in 1987, where he established the Damian Farrell Design Group after a six year internship. After selling his firm and an interim period of working in both a large and mid-sized architecture firm, Damian restarted Damian Farrell Design Group, PLLC. in July, 2008.

Acclaimed for his creative design, unwavering focus on the environment, creating healthy places to live, work, shop and play...and ability to listen and interpret solutions for each challenge. With his guidance over a wide variety of project types, Damian's projects have earned national recognition, and have been featured in Architectural Digest and numerous regional publications.
